Allies To Hold Conference

ALLIED SUCCESS IS REPORTED BY MARSHAL HAIG

London, Oct. 25.—Fighting on the battle front south of Valenciennes was resumed early this morning, Field Marshal Haig announces.

Vendegies-sur-Ecaillon, six miles south of Valenciennes, where determined enemy resistance had held up the British advance, was captured yesterday afternoon. The British advanced across the high ground east of the village, repulsing a German counter-attack. Maing, four miles southwest of Valenciennes, also was occupied and British troops pushed forward at several points.

"Yesterday afternoon we attacked and captured Vendegies-sur-Ecaillon and made progress on the high ground east of this village," said the statement.

"A counter-attack in this neighborhood was repulsed."

"Fighting recommenced at an early hour this morning."

"In close fighting yesterday the enemy resistance in Maing was overcome."

"Our advanced troops pushed forward at different fronts."

HUN SUBMARINE POWER STRONGER NOW THAN EVER

London, Oct. 25.—Germany is stronger than ever as far as her submarine powers are concerned and by the end of this year will be able to renew an extensive submarine offensive, declared Sir Eric Geddes, first Lord of the Admiralty in an interview here upon his return from the United States.

Replying in behalf of the admiralty regarding the activities of the British navy referred to in the American Tanager Day resolution, Sir Eric said that it is the tradition, privilege and pride of the navy to have borne the brunt of the sea war and that no part of that duty was carried out with greater peril or more personal affection than the conveying and escorting of American soldiers.

"Since the first day the United States joined the allies we have been proud to share with your navy our hourly perils and anxieties."

"I wish to assure the people of the United States we appreciate fully, in fact more than we can express the wonderful enthusiasm of the great American people in the fight for a common cause."

"The enthusiasm of the Americans which I personally witnessed in your country cannot fail to insure complete victory for the nations united in the battle of a common foe."

SOCIALIST IS RELEASED FROM GERMAN PRISON

Amsterdam, Oct. 25.—Dr. Earl Liebknecht, former socialist member of the Reichstag, has been released from prison where he has been serving a sentence for attempted treason, it was announced today.

Liebknecht was released on Tuesday and a popular demonstration marked his exit.

IMPORTANT PROGRESS MADE BY THE BRITISH ARMIES NEAR VALENCIENNES

London, Oct. 25.—Continuing their drive against Maubeuge the British third and fourth armies have made important progress on a front of nearly 35 miles, extending from southwest of Valenciennes to northeast of Wassigny.

They have reached the western edge of the Mormal forest along its whole extent, and are on the outskirts of Le Quesnoy, fifteen miles directly west of Maubeuge. More than seven thousand prisoners and 100 guns have been captured since Wednesday morning when the attack was launched over a front of about 17 miles.

The right wing fought its way through L'Esque wood and captured the village of Ors, four miles east of Ledatou. It is in this region that American troops have been co-operating with the British.

Further north, the villages of Poix-du-Nord and Lee Tulleries were cap-

GERMANS SHELL DENAIN
With the British Armies in France, October 25.—The Germans are shelling Denain (five miles southwest of Valenciennes) where 10,000 civilians are huddled together. There are more than 60,000 others in the immediate vicinity.

The British army, French and American relief organizations are feeding them.

Despite the bombardment the civilians are cheerful and are celebrating their release from Hun domination by decorating all their homes with flags.

ABDICATION OF KAISER IS DEMANDED

Paris, October 25.—Enormous crowds, gathered before the Reichstag building in Berlin, demanded abdication of the Kaiser and the establishment of a republic, according to information here today.

The crowds had collected to pay tribute to Karl Liebknecht, Socialist leader, recently released from prison for political opposition to the German government, according to dispatches received by the newspapers from Zurich.

After frenziedly acclaiming Liebknecht, the people hoisted him into a vehicle filled with flowers.

Amidst wild cheers, Liebknecht declared: "The peoples' hour has arrived."

AMERICAN ARMY MEASURES UP TO BEST IN WORLD

With the American Armies in France, Oct. 25.—"We didn't believe the Americans could develop such soldiers before five years," was the tribute a captured German field officer, paid to the American first division, after encountering that unit between the Argonne and the Neuse.

This division has an unbroken record of brilliant accomplishments since it left Mexico. It was the first to land in France, captured Cantigny and played an important part in the July counter offensive.

"The artillery and infantry work of your first division is worthy of the best armies in the world," the officer said.

"It was ordered to hold my ground at all costs. Your barrage was so dense it was impossible to move out of the dugouts. Then I saw your infantry coming. I knew it was all over."

"When we first ascertained that the first division was opposite us, we knew we would have the hardest fight we had been in during the war. Your first division is wonderful. The German army knows it."

The first division is composed entirely of regulars. It includes the 16th, 18th, 26th, and 28th infantry; Fifth, sixth and seventh artillery; first engineers, first, second and third machine gun battalions; trench mortar battery and second signal corps battalion. The division is commanded by Major General Charles P. Summerrall.

tured and the British lines carried beyond toward Englesfontaine. The village of Ghissignies, a few miles southwest of LeQuesnoy was taken.

The Germans determinedly defended the crossings of the Ecaillon river, northwest of Ghissignies, but the British won their way across capturing Beaudignies, a mile west of LeQuesnoy, and several batteries, including heavy guns.

Rusnes, a mile and a half northwest of LeQuesnoy, was stormed. To the westward Bernerain was captured, but the Germans successfully defended Vendegies-sur-Ecaillon, a mile northwest of Bernerain, and heavy fighting is still going on there.

The river crossing was forced between Verchain and Thiant.

Some progress was made in local fighting between Valenciennes and Tournai.

The French crossed the Oise near Longchamps and carried their lines to the western approaches of Guise.

CONVALESCING YANKS TAKE FRESH AIR TREATMENT IN ENGLAND

These Yank fighters were wounded while going over the top and are now convalescing at an English hospital. While taking in the fresh air in the hospital's spacious grounds they are reading about and discussing their comrades' latest exploits on the western front.

FOURTEEN PEACE TERMS OF THE PRESIDENT ASSAILED BY ROOSEVELT

Oyster Bay, N. Y., October 25.—Theodore Roosevelt sent duplicate telegrams last night to United States Senators Lodge, Poincaré and Johnson, in which he characterized as "thoroughly mischievous" the 14 principles enunciated by President Wilson, if they are to be made the basis of peace. The telegrams follow:

"As an American citizen I most earnestly hope that the Senate of the United States, which is part of the treaty making power of the United States, will take affirmative action against a negotiated peace with Germany and in favor of a peace based on the unconditional surrender of Germany."

"I also declare against the adoption in their entirety of the 14 points of the President's address of last January as offering a basis for a peace satisfactory to the United States. Let us dictate peace by the hammering of guns and not chat about peace to the accompaniment of the clicking of typewriters."

"The language of the 14 points and the subsequent statements explaining or qualifying them is neither straightforward nor plain, but if construed in its probable sense many, and possibly most, of these 14 points are thoroughly mischievous and if made the basis of a peace such peace would represent, not the unconditional surrender of Germany, but the conditional surrender of the United States. Naturally they are entirely satisfactory to Germany and equally naturally they are in this country satisfactory to every pro-German and pacifist and Socialist and anti-American so-called internationalist."

"The only peace offer which we should consider from Germany at this time is an offer to accept such terms as the allies, without our aid, have imposed on Bulgaria."

"We ought to declare war on Turkey without an hour's delay. The failure to do so hitherto has caused the talk about making the world safe for democracy to look unpleasantly like mere insincere rhetoric. While the Turk is left in Europe and permitted to tyrannize over the subject people, the world is thoroughly unsafe for democracy."

"Moreover, we should find out what the president means by continually referring to this country merely as the associate instead of the ally of the nations with whose troops our own are actually brigaded in battle. If he means that we are something less than an ally of France, England, Italy, Belgium and Serbia, then he means that we are something less than an enemy of Germany and Austria. We ought to make it clear to the world that we are neither an untrustworthy friend nor an irresolute foe. Let us clearly show that we do not desire to nose as the umpire between our faithful and loyal friends and our treacherous and brutal enemies, but that we are staunch ally of our friends and the staunch foe of our enemies."

"When the German people repudiate the Hohenzollerns, then, and not till then, it will be time to discriminate between them and their masters. I hope the senate and their house will pass some resolution demanding the unconditional surrender of Germany as our war aim, and stating that our peace terms have never yet been formulated or accepted by our people, and that they will be fully discussed with our allies and made fully satisfactory to our own people before they are discussed with Germany."

FORMER CZARINA RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH OF KITCHENER

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The former Czarina of Russia, was directly responsible for the death of Lord Kitchener, according to Henry W. Mapp, head of the Salvation Army in Russia, who has just returned here from that country.

Mapp declared today that a telegram from the Czarina's apartment in the winter palaces at Petrograd to the Kaiser at Potsdam, betrayed Kitchener to the Germans, who torpedoed his ship off the Orkneys as he started on admission to Russia.

Mapp asserted that all allied war plans that came to the knowledge of the Russian empress were immediately passed along to Berlin and that only the Russian revolt saved the allied cause from disaster through her treachery.

FRENCH BEGIN STRONG ATTACK NORTH OF LAON

Paris, October 25.—The French began an attack along the Serre and Souche rivers, north of Laon, this morning, it was announced by the war office. The assault was accompanied by heavy artillery and machine gun fire.

On the Aisne, east of Rethel, the village of Ambly-Flours was captured yesterday.

Two German assaults were repulsed on the Oise front, between Longchamps and Noyelles. Two enemy surprise attacks were broken down east of Siesone.

"On the Oise front, between Longchamps and Noyelles, last night, we repulsed two tentative enemy attacks," the communique said.

"On the Serre-Souche front, under protection of artillery and machine guns this morning, we resumed our pressure against the enemy."

"East of Siesone, the Germans launched two surprise attacks against Serres and Nizy-Le-Comte, without result."

"East of Rethel, a well conducted operation gave us the village of Ambly-Flours, despite determined resistance. We took a hundred prisoners, including many officers and machine guns."

"North of Olizy (west of Grandpre) our patrols took 20 prisoners."

ARMISTICE TERMS WILL BE DECIDED UPON BY ALLIES

Washington, Oct. 25.—At an important inter-allied conference to be held immediately in Paris problems growing out of the war as a result of Germany's peace offensive will be threshed out to accomplish complete unity on the diplomatic front of America and her allies.

Col. E. M. House, President Wilson's confidential adviser, Admiral Benson, representing the navy department, who have just arrived in France, and Gen. Bliss, representing the war department, who is already there, will constitute America's team at the big conference.

Other members of the House party are: Gordon Auchincloss, Col. House's son-in-law and a trade expert of the state department, and Joseph Grew, former secretary of the American embassy at Berlin.

Benson is fully advised as to the President and Secretary of the Navy's position on the navy terms of an armistice.

Col. House has been studying the peace proposition and is in a position to speak authoritatively for President Wilson.

In addition to this party, which has just arrived, the United States has on the ground Generals Bliss and Pershing, and Admiral Mayo. The delegation is expected to make its headquarters at Paris.

By ROBERT J. BENDER.
Washington, Oct. 25.—American military, naval and diplomatic chiefs, fully advised of the United States' position on an armistice, will be prepared to counsel with allied representatives on that document before it is ready for final submission to the respective associated governments. The general outlines are already established.

General Bliss, at the Versailles conference, will probably be the military spokesman.

The naval and diplomatic representatives have not been revealed though it may be significant that recent cables announced that Admiral Mayo, chief of the Atlantic fleet, is abroad.

It was learned authoritatively today that the president deems it absolutely necessary that any armistice program agreed upon by military chiefs shall be submitted to their respective governments and these must pass upon provisions before they are finally approved and sent forward to Germany. But no hitch is expected. However, it would appear that some time would elapse before there is any step in the world maneuvers to determine whether there shall be peace by German capitulation or war to the end.

One of the points the allies will insist upon, it is said, is that their representatives be placed in German frontier and port entries to collect a part of the customs as indemnities for France and Belgium should a peace conference result.

One of two things is expected from Germany now. Either there will be developments of great importance in that country marked by the abdication of the Hohenzollerns and a speedy announcement to the world of this fact, or a policy of waiting to see what the allied armistice terms are before making her decision as to surrender or fight.

Government cables received here, quoting responsible travelers arriving in Copenhagen during the last week, state that the German people desire peace so strongly "they will go to any length to obtain it."

One message declared that the possible abdication of the Kaiser is openly discussed and should such a move be necessary the Kaiser would "willingly abdicate."

Bavarian newspapers are urging the thought here is that President Wilson has much information on the conditions with which he is dealing that thus far, has not seen fit to disclose.

Should the Kaiser abdicate and pass his "sacred seat" on to his son, August (as reports indicate he is willing to do) he would not fool this or allied countries, it is clearly indicated. There must be a thorough house-cleaning, President Wilson holds—or complete surrender.

That Pope Benedict is seeking to instill this conviction in the thousands of the central empires is indicated by a significant article in the Corriere d'Italia, semi-official Vatican organ by Filippo Crespoliti, Italy's best known Catholic writer, who had a private and confidential interview with the Pope.

According to excerpts from the article, America is regarded as "armed judge," in the great war. "significant passages follow:

"As a matter of fact, the two peace confronting each other are a German peace, which though somewhat modified from its original intentions as never been accepted without humiliating the other peace inspired by the immortal judges, one of whom I taken up arms to insure the achievement of this peace to which all know as an act of supreme justice, which, in order to be accepted by the enemies does not require an act of shameful submission, but simply of reasonableness and equity."

The article then goes on to state Wilson's declaration of a "peace justice to friend and foe alike."

BURGOMASTER RELEASED.
London, Oct. 25.—Burgomaster Adolph Max of Brussels, who has been held by the Germans at Turnhout, Belgium, has been released, according to the Vatterland of The Hague, in which it also is reported that other political prisoners have been set free. Max, arrested in September 1914 for his "recalcitrant attitude" according to announcement made by the German military governor of Belgium.

OVER 5,000 NEW CASES OF THE FLU REPORTED IN OHIO

Columbus, October 25.—Over 5,000 new cases of influenza were reported to the State Board of Health today by 66 cities.

A total of 272 new deaths were also reported.

State health authorities now estimate the total number of cases in Ohio at between 125,000 and 150,000, and the death toll so far at around 2,500, exclusive of the 1,100 deaths at Camp Sherman.

The crest of the epidemic is not expected now before the latter part of next week, according to James E. Bauman, deputy state health commissioner. The crest has been passed in many communities, but new cases in others keep the state situation still serious.

Copenhagen, October 25.—The Reichstag has voted confidence in Chancellor Max, 192 to 52, according to dispatches received here today.

WATER COMPANY BENEFITTED BY CHANGE IN RATE

The new schedule of water rates for the city of Xenia, as set by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, which were received by the city authorities Wednesday and recalled on Thursday for the correction of several omissions made by the Commission, are again in the hands of the city officials in corrected form.

Under the schedule first received the water company would have received an income of about $45,000. Under the corrected schedule the Water Company's annual income will be about $50,000. The error made by the Utilities Commission in the first schedule and now corrected was in the rate charged the city for water for fire protection, in the first schedule filed the old rate being allowed to remain in force.

Under the old rates fixed by ordinance, the city pays the water company $82 per fire plug annually. The new schedule requires the city to pay $68 annually per fire plug. There are 203 fire plugs in the city. This means an annual increased water charge to the city of $7,908. In addition, the city will have to pay regular meter rates for water used at the city building and fire department houses, which in the past received free water service.

The schools and churches will also have to pay regular rates for water in the future. In the past they received free water.

Under the old schedule the total revenue of the Water Company was approximately $33,000. This was the amount the city proposed to continue paying under an ordinance passed by the old city council and rejected by the Water Company. The Water Company asked for rates that would provide a revenue of approximately $60,000.

The increase allowed by the Utilities Commission is in round figures $17,000 annually. Under the new schedule the city will pay $7,000 of this increase and the private consumers will pay $10,000.

DR. HEWITT LEAVES SICK BED TO HELP CARE FOR CHILDREN

Although there are about 250 cases of influenza among children at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans home, Dr. Warren C. Hewitt, resident physician at the institution, is optimistic over the situation. He believes that the epidemic will be under control before long.

Dr. Hewitt, who was able to be out of his sick bed Thursday, went to work Friday to help Dr. W. A. Galloway in giving medical attention to the little victims of the malady. He had seen one hundred and twenty cases before 11 o'clock in the morning, although he was still too weak to be on his feet to any great extent.

The great need at the Home is for volunteers to aid in nursing the ill children.

"Not one case in 20 needs the attention of a trained nurse, said Dr. Hewitt, but we do need people who will wait upon the children, give them water and food, and little attentions such as any adult will be able to give."

Three additional nurses were secured Thursday night through the efforts of Mrs. J. P. Elton. Two of them are from Wilmington, one being a man.

Dr. Hewitt says that the situation at the Home is not serious, and that the epidemic of grip and measles at the institution four years ago was just as bad as this. There were no fatalities at that time. The fact that so many cases of pneumonia have followed influenza over the country has caused people to become frightened whenever the malady gains a foothold.

There were two cases of pneumonia among the little victims at the Home Friday morning, but both were said to be getting along nicely.

Additional cottages were converted into hospital wards Friday morning.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

VETERAN OF THE CIVIL WAR DIES OF HEART FAILURE

William Ellsberry, veteran of the Civil War, and lifelong resident of Xenia, died at 6:30 Thursday evening at his home on East Market street. He died seated in his chair, as during the last five weeks he was unable to recline, owing to a heart affliction, and sat night and day in his chair. The end came to him very peacefully, although he had passed through much suffering during his illness.

Mr. Ellsberry was born at New Castle, O., October 16, 1849, but his home was in Xenia virtually all his life. His first wife was Margaret Stump, who died when she was a young woman, leaving two children. Mr. Ellsberry's second wife, who survives him was Katharine Huffman.

There are two children surviving. Mrs. Clark H. Poland, a daughter by his first marriage, and Edward Ellsberry, a son of the second marriage. Mr. Ellsberry was the last member of the immediate family, leaving only one near relative, a cousin. He served throughout the four years of the Civil War, and was a member of Company D, Eighty-eighth regiment O. V. I. He belonged to Lewis Post and for years had held the office of officer of the day, in the Post. For the last 25 years he was employed by H. E. Schmidt, and continued at his work until within the last month, although he had not been well for several months.

Funeral services will be held at the home Monday afternoon.

The city manager, city auditor and city solicitor were instructed to prepare the ordinance and present it for public hearing at the next meeting of the commission on November 14.

The matter of opening the churches and schools was presented and on motion it was unanimously decided to instruct the city health officer to continue the ban until the epidemic is more completely under control.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD 'SYRUP OF FIGS' IF TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, clean little liver and bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty its bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. adv

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

Pile Sufferers! Clever Ohio Chemist Says This Great Prescription Taken Internally Has Never Failed

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and that best, only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise acts on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place where by its soothing, healing action, it first allays all inflammation and then by direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days at most, even in cases with profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments and operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy decisively conquers even the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

POLITICS IS ADJOURNED?

Washington, October 25.—President Wilson today appealed to the country for a vote of confidence in his leadership "both at home and abroad," by returning a Democratic congress.

In a statement addressed to "my fellow countrymen," he said that the Republican leaders "have unquestionably been pro-war, but anti-administration," and said election of a Republican majority to either house of congress would "certainly be interpreted on the other side of the water as a repudiation of my leadership."

The president's statement follows: "My fellow countrymen:

"The congressional elections are at hand. They occur in the most critical period our country has ever faced or is likely to face in our time. If you have approved of my leadership and wish me to continue to be your unembarrassed spokesman in affairs at home and abroad, I earnestly beg that that you will express yourselves unmistakably to that effect by returning a Democratic majority to congress. * * * No scruple of taste in grim times like these must be allowed to stand in the way of stating the plain truth.

"I have no thought of suggesting that any political party is paramount in matters of patriotism. I feel too keenly the sacrifices which have been made in this war by all our citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, to harbor such an idea. I mean only that the difficulties and delicacies of our present task are of a sort that make it imperatively necessary that the nation should give its undivided support to the government under a unified leadership and that a Republican congress would divide the leadership.

"The leaders of the minority in the present congress have unquestionably been pro-war, but they have been anti-administration. At almost every turn since we entered the war they have sought to take the choice of policy and the conduct of the war out of my hands and put it under the control of instrumentalities of their own choosing. This is no time for divided counsel or for divided leadership. Unity of command is as necessary now in civil action as it is upon the field of battle. If the control of the house and senate should be taken away from the party now in power, an opposing majority could assume control of legislation and oblige all action to be taken amid contest and obstruction.

"The return of a Republican majority to either house of congress would, moreover, certainly be interpreted on the other side of the water as a repudiation of my leadership. Spokesmen of the Republican party are urging you to elect a Republican congress in order to back up and support the president. But even if they should in this way impose upon some credulous voters on this side of the water, they would impose on none on the other side. It is well understood there as well as here that the Republican leaders desire not so much to support the president as to control him. The peoples of the allied countries with whom we are associated against Germany are quite familiar with the significance of elections. They would find it very difficult to believe that the voters of the United States had chosen to support their president by electing to the congress a majority controlled by those who are not in full sympathy with the attitude and action of the administration.

"I need not tell you, my fellow countrymen, that I am asking your support not for my sake, or for the political party, but for the sake of the nation itself. In ordinary times, I would not feel at liberty to make such an appeal to you. In ordinary times divided counsels can be endured without permanent hurt to the country. But these are not ordinary times. In these critical days it is your wish to sustain me with undivided minds, I beg that you will say so in a way which it will not be possible to misunderstand, either here at home or among our associates on the other side of the sea. I submit my difficulties and my hopes to you.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

THE WAY TO USE VAPORUB FOR SPANISH INFLUENZA

The Influenza Germs Attack the Lining of the Air Passages.. When VaporRub is Applied Over Throat and Chest, the Medicated Vapors Inhaled Loosen the Phlegm, Open the Air Passages and Stimulate the Mucous Membrane to Throw Off the Germs.

Most authorities now agree that what we call Spanish Influenza is simply the old-fashioned grip, which was epidemic here in 1889-90. The influenza germs enter through the nose and mouth and attack the lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

There is no cure or specific for this disease, but Nature will throw off the attack, if only you conserve your strength. A competent physician should always be called. The use of VaporRub does not interfere with any internal treatment and it is now being used by headlined physicians everywhere, in order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VaporRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VaporRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE. Evidence seems to prove that Spanish Influenza is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS.

Above all, avoid colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs.

Use Vick's VaporRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VaporRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VaporRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VaporRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE—Vick's VaporRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubeb, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors. VaporRub can be had in three sizes—30c, 60c, $1.20—at all druggists. While comparatively new in certain parts of the North, it is the standard home remedy in the South and West for all forms of cold troubles—over six million jars were sold last year. VaporRub is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, as it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used freely and often—without the slightest harmful effects.

"POLLYANNA OR THE GLAD GAME."

Five years ago appeared the story "Pollyanna, or the Glad Game," by Eleanor H. Porter. Pollyanna was a little girl who persistently looked on the bright side of things. Almost instantly the book seemed to touch the pulse of public approval and became so popular that it sold like wild fire. For one reason because of its cheerful nature. People like to read books that put them in a happy frame of mind. "Pollyanna" went the world over, 500,000 copies having been published, and the little girl became so real an individual, with a personality all her own, that the author says she is now something entirely outside of her self (the author). She says she realized this when she opened a little yellow-and-white volume and beheld the chicken-toed hieroglyphics which they told her was Pollyanna in Japanese. She says:

"That my Pollyanna? I knew then exactly how the poor hen on the bank felt with her duckling; daughters afloat on a sea where she could not follow. Why, Pollyanna might say anything, anything there, in that yellow book, and I be none the wiser!"

"Pollyanna" has been dramatized and in this form has also pleased the public so well that it has the record of 1,500 performances. It had the remarkable record of a year's run in Chicago before New York saw the play.

The American Magazine for November has a fine portrait of Mrs. Porter in alcovrague. She lives in Cambridge, near Boston. She herself began playing "the Glad Game" with her mother, who was an invalid. In connection with the portrait in the American Mrs. Porter tells something of how the idea of the story developed in her mind. She says:

"And so if you'll understand, please, that Pollyanna seems just a dear little girl whom I knew and loved and told you about, perhaps I may be pardoned for telling a little of what her game has done to help, and of why I believe so thoroughly in it and say that we should play it hard—right now."

"What is the game? First, let me tell you what it is not, please. It is not calling pain, pleasure; or sorrow, joy. It is not sitting down with folded hands and uplifted gaze and declaring that everything that is, is good. The glad game is no such soothing sirup of silly deception as that. It is a cheery, courageous acceptance of the facts. It is admitting that pain is pain, and that sorrow is not joy; that unpleasant things are ever with us; but it is also declaring that, since this is so, instead of repining at the pain and the sorrow and the evil, we will see if we can't find some mitigation for the pain and the sorrow and some cure for the evil, or at least some antidote that will counteract its results. It is not passively accepting that whatever is, is good, but actively searching for whatever good there is in what is. In Pollyanna's case it began with a pair of crutches that came in a missionary barrel, when she had been longing for a doll. It was then that her father taught her the game. "There is always something about everything that you can be glad for," he said. "You can be glad even about the crutches—glad because you don't have to use them."

MOTORAIDS

A case of overheating that is frequently overlooked, is because of a slipping fan belt. It must run at the speed intended by the maker or it will not properly cool the motor. If you can take hold of the blades of the fan when the belt is on and can spin it, then the belt is too loose. A very good arrangement is to have the tension of the belt automatically taken up by a spring.

GERMANY GIVEN AN ULTIMATUM.

Germany now has her choice. She can toss the Hohenzollerns overboard, or go down with them.

With them, as the president has so often and so emphatically explained, there can be no peace, because they have proved themselves utterly without honor, conscienceless breakers of pledges who are incapable of covenant-peace. With them we and our allies have nothing to do, except to sweep them into the discard.

How they are swept away matters little. We may do it by force, as Europe a century ago did with Napoleon; or the German nation itself may be persuaded to do it. The one absolutely essential thing is that Kaiser Wilhelm and all he stands for be abolished. It will not be enough for Wilhelm merely to abdicate in favor of the crown prince or some other son, or any other person selected by him. He personifies kaiserism, and kaiserism has got to be smashed.

If the German people have as yet risen to any sort of intelligent understanding of the war, and any sense of self-respect, they will proceed to do the smashing themselves, while they have a chance. If they refuse to destroy this evil thing, as menacing to their own life as it is to the life of the outer world, if they continue identifying autocratic kaiserism with country, then Germany must be made to feel some of the distress she has been giving to other nations. "Reprisal" is not a choice word with people who wish to do to others as they wish to be done by—but Germany's conduct has been so fiendish that she can expect nothing less than to feel on her own soil some of the "mailed fist" she has been giving to others.

And if Germany does not proceed to throw overboard the kaiser and his military advisers, then as President Wilson tells them in his reply of October 23, there will be no peace negotiations, but the demand for unconditional surrender—and that "nothing can be gained by leaving this essential thing unsaid."

We are sure that this demand meets the approbation of the people of this country.

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

BRIAN AND MOLLIE ARE UNCONSCIOUS THAT THEY ARE WATCHED.

CHAPTER LXXI

The next morning, recalling that he had made an engagement to take Mollie to dinner that night, so filling his evening, Brian wrote Ruth a short note as well as replying to her wire. Then he went about his office duties whistling gayly. His duty done, he was free to anticipate the coming of the evening.

There was a time when women had no choice. They were either wives, or, failing that, daughters. No rivalry between business and wifehood existed. Now Ruth, in a sense, had realized that rivalry from the time she had gone to work for Arthur Mandel—realized it but with no slightest idea of surrendering either.

Wifehood and a career. Why not? She was young, strong, ambitious. She loved Brian, she would do all in her power to make him happy. She was intensely interested in her work, and would do everything possible to make it a success.

She fully intended to keep a cheery, sweet home for Brian. She would not allow her business even to creep into her talks with him. Yet she wistfully longed to talk of it to him, to tell him of her plans. But she must force herself to do the things HE wanted to do, to talk of the things in which he was interested. Not only for his sake, but for the sake of her own happiness.

Whenever Ruth was away from Brian she felt that nothing in the world was worth very much without him, his approval. She was disturbed by doubts, and often by jealous thoughts of this to affect her work. That must be done and done to the best of her ability. It was in the evening when she sat alone in some lonely hotel room, that the doubts came; that the jealous thoughts made her unhappy.

Often she wondered if, had she been less keen for her own independence, she could have helped Brian to push himself more rapidly. Always she decided, no! if it wasn't in him, she could do no more than she had done. Yet always there was Brian—alone, and—Mollie King.

One moment Ruth would grow cold at the possibility of losing Brian's love, the next a wave of something very like defiance would rush over her. But all this was when she and Brian were separated.

So now she wondered if he were missing her—wondered, and longed to know. While Brian, satisfied that she would have her wife from him before night, her letter the next morning, closed the office early and went to meet Mollie King.

They had decided to dine at one of the Village restaurants, a place patronized by strangers in the city as well as by the villagers themselves.

Strange, it should happen that on that very night Arthur Mandel had consented to join a party at that very restaurant for dinner. He cared nothing for such places, but they were out-of-town business acquaintances, so he went along.

With the perversity of fate, they were given a table next to that already occupied by Brian and Mollie.

"I hope that good looking man, the one with the dark hair and eyes, will know us the next time he sees us," Mollie whispered to Brian. "Perhaps he knows you. He hasn't taken his eyes off of us since he sat down."

"It is more than likely he is trying to flirt with you," Brian's quick jealousy immediately aroused. Had he known that it was Ruth's employer who evinced such an interest he might have been more careful in his remark, which, judging from Mndel's expression, he had overheard.

"Let him try! that's all the good it will do. Now, Brian, tell me all about yourself," and soon, the next table and its occupants forgotten, Brian was telling Mollie King, the sympathetic, of his worries, and his hope of ultimate success.

Arthur Mandel caught much of what he said, as Brian's voice was of a penetrating quality, even when he spoke in a low tone. Then after a while, their dinner finished, they rose to go. As they passed the table where Mandel and his guests were seated, Brian said distinctly:

"We'll go there tomorrow night."

"So it's every night when she's away," Mandel thought as he watched them leave. "She's a pretty girl, but the man's a fool. Ruth is worth a dozen of her," he had lately taken to thinking of his employee as "Ruth," altho he always addressed her punctiliously as "Mrs. Hackett."

During the remainder of his stay at the restaurant, he was the gayest one at the table. Surely things were happening that would eventually throw Ruth into his arms. He could afford to wait. She was worth serving seven years for, if necessary. And she had refused to take a couple of days' rest at the Springs because he, that young fool, would be lonely!

That night Arthur Mandel slept soundly. Happy in the thought that he would soon make up to Ruth for all the neglect Brian made her suffer.

Place Confidence in Soil.

Confidence in the soil means much for good farming. If you believe your soil will respond to good tillage you are apt to trust it to that. If you believe your soil will pay for extra investment in lime, drainage and fertilizer you are likely to make the greater investment. But after all it is self-confidence, for the soil will do just what you let it in the way of production.

HENRY FARRELL WRITES SPICY LETTER FROM FIGHTING FRONT

Sergeant Henry L. Farrell, formerly a member of the editorial staff of this paper, recently wrote the following interesting letter from the battle front to a newspaper friend in Xenia:

Dear "Ridy:"
A gas mask isn't the best thing in the world for a writing table, but I believe the man who designed this "sack cloth and ashes" affair was inspired by the idea of making it most uncomfortable for all its functions, but in this emergency capacity it may be of some assistance to me in penning a few words that have been on my "things to do" list for a long while.

Coming across we came near being presented at the court of "Old Neptune." We came so close we almost had a foot in the inner chamber, but the "tin fish" that opened the avenue to the opportunity, didn't put enough force behind his blow and we made port. It was an experience that I can liken to nothing else, and I am perfectly willing to have it the lone entry of its kind on my book.

England is about the prettiest place I have ever seen. What strikes the observer most, however, is its cleanliness. There surely can't be union hours among the "Gold Dust twins" for everything, even down to streets and alleys, fairly shines. The existence of a single type of architecture makes all the hamlets look like "toy villages." Every burg outside of the large cities seems to have a "shire" tacked on it.

France is justly famous for her natural beauty. The territory remote from the range of the "Kraut" batteries is a picture beyond description. We had numerous chances to get "close ups" on the real classic sections, while we were billeted in the stables of some of the best chateaus. Were it not for the fact that horses, cows, and ancient donkeys dwell therein, one would never know that these structures were barns.

What we have seen of England and France, however, has been acquired after the fashion of a bush league stage troupe. We made a series of "one night" stands, stopping only for breathing spells between changes from one "sardine" railroad to another. Foreign made "choo-choo" trains that the kids play with back in the states are miniatures after the real railroads over here. Several boys in our outfit who had railroaded before they started their course with the "155's" nearly died of shock when they gazed upon an engineer and fireman all dolled up in white collars and cuffs. You may get some idea of the speed with which the "limiteds" roll over here by this honest to gosh story: At one of the frequent stops a lad in another battery was left behind. It was over ten hours before he stowed himself away on a freight train, but he caught up with us the next day.

Instead of waiting around the station between trains we were marched to "rest camps." Why they were ever so inappropriately named, I don't know, unless camouflage has become second nature with the camp chieftains. Perhaps with the idea of getting us away from the dirt and smoke of the railroad yards, these "rest camps" were generally located on an eminence about 15 miles away. We'd walk out under a full pack at night, and walk back the next morning. After about ten days of this one of my boys said: "Another one of them rest camps and I'll be pushin' up the daisies."

But that was in the dim and distant past. They had to speed us up, I guess. We have been told that our brigade has been pushed through the fastest of any of the E. F. Where we are now we can't say, but this much is so—we are in the state of bliss, for every day puts us closer to "the line," and the Yanks are kickin' up so much hell up there that we are just itchin' for the "Forward" that will give us a hand in it.

Just how good eight little pages of printer's ink from back home would be I never really understood until last week, when four bundles of Gazettes came to me. I was the most popular man in camp then. Officers and men who had never heard of Xenia gobbled them up and had nearly as much satisfaction out of them. Your telegraph service covering the "Yank drive," was better than the Paris editions of the N. Y. "Herald" and the Chicago "Tribune," which come to us daily. The stories concerning the jubilation of the folks back home over the conduct of "our boys" around Chateau-Thierry was a most invigorating tonic. You don't know what it means to have it brought home so strongly that the people at home are behind us. It makes a fellow put everything he has behind the ball when he gets such encouragement from the side lines—even if it has to be echoed across a couple of thousand miles of briny water.

There's gain't be nothin' to it, Ridy. This bunch of kraut have eaten a full mess of "Paris green," and they're goin' to flop over, toes-up, some day not very far distant. I wish we could tell you some of the tales coming back from the front. It makes the job of waiting a purgatory. "Next spring" is the big noise. That's all you hear the boys talking about. And we'll be in it, too. Winter can't pass too quickly. "If they rang the bells last July, what will they do to celebrate next July," the boys are saying.

I know where Bill Smith and the rest of that crowd are camped, when don't enlighten you a bit, I admit. They are quite some distance from me, and it is not with chances of meeting them. I haven't seen a Xenian man since I've been over here, which will make home coming day all the more eventful.

There are many things that will make France indelible in our memory—and not the least of these impressive factors will be the countless billions of flies who up to the arrival of the Yanks had carried on their aggravating operations without molestation. Fly swatting campaigns were surely never dreamed of. The pesky things are very demonstrative in their affection. They stick closer than anything I have ever encountered. All through Britain and France we saw not a thing that even resembled a screen door. But they are now being introduced by the E. F. and I believe a hustler could make some money peddling them after the war is over.

We started "swatting flies," too, and now we have the French kids doing it. Some of them thought it was baseball, the American national pastime.

Between these pests and our dog, I am having a problem scratching these lines. With our dog, "Taps," goes a tale that we believe the most enviable in the E. F. She is a real army dog, so thoroughly accustomed to the olive drab that she won't allow a civilian or a sky blue clad "Poilu" around the camp. She was picked up, a mere pup, in Mexico, by old "Troop B." She came to Columbus with them and remained around the barn with the horses until we were called out. Then she went with us to Sheridan, thence up the Atlantic coast to Yaphank. Though she was said to be doomed, along she went to Montreal and Halifax. "You'll never get 'er across," they said, basing their assertions on the fact that a dog hadn't evaded the port officials in a year. Then started a smuggling process. Foisted up in overcoats, tied up in kit bags, nailed up in boxes, she went along without whimpering—and she's still with us, the best pal of every man in the battery, from officers down. We have been educating her along preparedness lines, and at the mere whisper of "gas," she tears into the dugouts and takes the darkest corner for protection.

Give my best to all my friends around the burg, and tell them that, on our first shell, which will have been fired by the time you have received this, I am going to chalk—"Here's 190 pounds of hell for the head murderer of the kraut gang from the people back in Xenia."

If you ever have a spare moment, drop me a line. Our mail service is excellent and we will be reached any place on the line.

Yours as "of old,"
"Hen."

MY DOCTOR'S GONE

To the War!—Why Not Use the Good Proprietary Medicines?

The ingredients of good prepared or proprietary medicines are those used by successful physicians in prescriptions. In most cases they are better combined in prepared medicines, which are produced in a large way, with the best pharmaceutical facilities, than they can be otherwise.

In the absence of the doctors who have heroically gone to war, Hood's Sarsaparilla, Peptonin, a real iron tonic, and Hood's Pills, the gentle cathartic, all of which have great merit, are more and more used in diseases of the blood, nerves, stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Get one, two or all three today and begin treatment at once.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders, or sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Acid-Stomach Victims Sickly, Weak, Unfit, Depressed

Maybe you have an acid stomach, and don't know it. There are millions of such people—weak, ailing, tired, worn out and "all in" before the day is out. Their bodies and intellects are in roundabouts—often with aches and pains all over the body—usually lack of physical power and mental vigor—pale, emaciated—just dragging out a weary existence. Nine out of every ten of these people are unconscious victims of acid-stomach.

Thousands upon thousands of people who are subject to indigestion, gas, and flatulency, who are nervous, irritable, mentally depressed; who suffer from rheumatism, lumbago or sciatica—yes, even many of those who have catarrh, ulcer or cancer of the stomach, if the trouble is traced to indigestion, will often be found to be just acid-stomach. For these are only some of the ailments that are caused by what the doctors call "supercidity," which is another name for sour or acid-stomach.

What you want to know above all else is how to quickly rid yourself of excess acid. A wonderful modern remedy called LAXOGEN literally wipes it out. It does the work easily, quickly and naturally. It makes the stomach more, sweet, cool and comfortable. It helps you get your strength back every mouthful of food you eat; and unless you LO get full strength from your food you cannot enjoy robust, vigorous health.

You eat to LIVE. Your life depends on the strength you get from your food. There is no other way.

LAXOGEN is a pleasant-tasting tablet form—just like a bit of candy. We urge you to try it—no matter what you have tried before. Eat one just one week and find out for yourself how wonderfully improved you will feel. See how quickly LAXOGEN banishes the immediate effects of acid-stomach—bloat, heartburn, belching, food-repelling, sour, watery stomach, indigestion, etc. See how quickly your general health improves—how much more you relish your food—how much more easily it is digested—how much you sleep—how new vigor and mental alertness you gain. And this simply because by taking LAXOGEN you have rid your stomach of a lot of excess acid that has been holding you back from a normal and life-enjoyable existence.

LAXOGEN is positively harmless. It can be taken by the most delicate. Tens of thousands of people who have used it are convincing evidence of this.

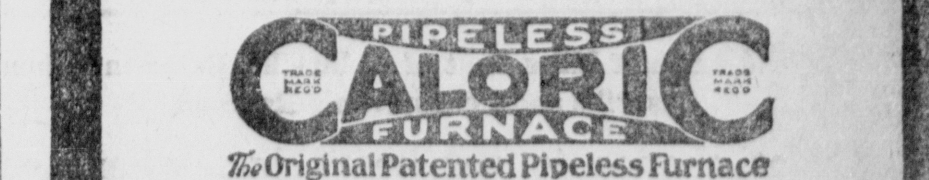

That wonderful modern remedy is absolutely guaranteed to give you relief in 24 hours. It is a big box with a big picture guarantee that if you are not pleased in every way, you get your money back. So give your trust and you can safely trust him to make the guarantee good.

Saving Coal Saves Money

And Helps The Nation

There's a wealth of proof to show that your home may be thoroughly comfortable at a third or a half less fuel than you have been using. The Caloric Pipeless Furnace is a remarkable fuel conserver. Many say it saves half. Here is just one sample letter taken at random out of thousands which the manufacturers receive from pleased Caloric owners:

"I am heating very comfortably seven rooms and not using any more fuel than I did with a double heater, heating only two rooms.—S. P. SEIFERT."

Over fifty thousand homes, many of them in this state, have found this furnace the economical, common-sense method of keeping comfortable. They bought on a guarantee of real fuel saving and perfect satisfaction, and the Caloric made good.

One register delivers all the heat from the fuel directly into your living rooms and draws out the cold air, insuring an abundance of balmy, moist warmth right where you want it. The cellar is just right for the storage of perishable products.

The Caloric can be installed in a day. It is a triumph of engineering skill that embodies many patented features which have made it the leader and which are not found in imitations. Come in and see this wonderful furnace. We will tell you frankly whether it is adapted to your home. If we say it is, we will give you our personal guarantee that it will make good or we will take it out. Come in and talk it over.

TWO WEEKS ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH FOR MISS HARRIET KEITER

After being ill less than two weeks, Miss Harriet Keiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keiter of near Beavertown, died of bronchial pneumonia, at 8:45 Wednesday night. She was taken ill of influenza while employed at the Green and Green factory in Dayton, a week ago last Monday, but she lived only a day after pneumonia developed. Her sister, Miss Gladys, who was taken ill about the same time, is in a serious condition, and has not been told of Miss Harriet's death.

Miss Keiter and her sister were both graduates of Beavercreek high school. Miss Harriet taught school in Beavercreek township, at the Benham and Ludlow schools, but since school closed last spring, she had been working at the Dayton factory. She leaves her parents, three brothers, Homer of Dayton, Otto and William of Beavertown, and two sisters, Gladys and Mrs. Charles Bahns. Burial will take place at Mt. Zion cemetery, Saturday at 2 o'clock, and there will be brief services at the grave.

UNDERTAKER FALLS THROUGH TRAP DOOR; BREAKS COLLAR BONE

While at the Gilchrist home in Jamestown, where he was called to embalm the body of Mrs. Sarah Gilchrist, Al Zeiner, Jamestown undertaker and member of the firm of Zeiner Bros., stepped through a trap cellar door, and sustained fractures of the collar bone and three ribs, Thursday night.

The cellar opening is in the floor of a rear porch, a door to which opened off the room in which Mrs. Gilchrist's body was laid out. It was accidentally left open, and when Mr. Zeiner stepped out he failed to notice the opening in the darkness and fell through to the cellar floor. Dr. Ogan was called and took him home.

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out Kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from back-ache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. adv

PRETTY WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED

In a simple service which took place Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, Miss Blanche Louise Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dean of the Stevenson road, became the bride of Wilbur Clemens Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson of New Jasper township.

The Rev. A. J. Kestle officiated, and the ceremony took place at the home of T. B. Charters, Where Rev. and Mrs. Kestle are staying temporarily.

The attendants were Charles Coy and Miss Cleo Devoe.

The bride wore a frock of white crepe de chine, and Miss Devoe was attired in a brown tailored suit.

Following the ceremony, the bridal pair and their attendants went to the home of Mrs. Wilson's parents, where they were guests at supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at the home of the latter's parents for a time.

CEDARVILLE

Miss Grace Morton, of Xenia, was the guest of Miss Bertha Anderson, Tuesday.

Miss Mande Hastings spent a few days this week with Miss Florence Scott, of Selma.

Mrs. Will Northup, of Coshocton, is here the guest of her sisters, Mrs. W. C. Hiff, and Mrs. Robert Townsley.

Mr. Joseph Bratton, of Springfield, Mass., and Mr. Charles Bratton, of Camp Sherman, were home on a short furlough, called here by the death of their grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Shaffer, of Clifton.

Miss Lunetta Sterritt, who is principal of the Martin's Ferry High School, is home, her school being closed on account of the influenza.

Mrs. Harry Waddle and son, of Springfield, were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tarbox a few days this week.

Miss Kate Nesbit, who was a victim of influenza, is recovering slowly.

The Misses Marie and Helen Little, of Grape Grove, were guests of Miss Helen Creswell, last week.

It is doubtful whether the public school and college will open before the first week of November. While there are still a few new cases of influenza every day, the board of health think it best not to lift the quarantine.

It goes farther—tastes better—and is sold by your home town grocer; that's Golden Sun—the dustless, chaffless coffee. Why then patronize mail order houses and peddlers?

Part of every dollar you spend at home goes to make better schools, roads, etc. Money sent out of town never comes back and often buys less value than you can get right at home.

PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds. In the days of automobiles, the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is coming to depend upon these papers to notify him of the sale and the articles to be offered for sale. FAIRFIELD

Miss Cleo V. Rockfield is convalescing from a severe attack of influenza. Rev. and Mrs. Jerome C. Schulz, are being congratulated on the arrival of a son, Sunday morning bearing the name of Dale Methered.

Many of the citizens are victims of the prevailing disease, but hopes are entertained of their recovery.

Mrs. John Baudorf is suffering with sciatic rheumatism.

Friends here are sorry to learn of C. R. Shuey being ill with a severe cold at his home at Fairfield.

The remains of Mr. H. H. Hardcastle, aged 63, were brought from Springfield Monday at 4 p. m. and interred in the cemetery here. The decedent was formerly a resident of this place. He was a charter member of the Grace Reformed church at Springfield. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. W. Hoffman, of Louisville, Ohio, and Rev. S. B. Yockey, the former his pastor, at the home of his brother, Clarence Hardcastle, the only surviving member of the family, at 2 o'clock.

The burial of Mrs. Eva Klatt, (nee Tippy), aged 32, wife of Wm. Klatt, of Dayton, occurred here Sunday at 4 p. m.

The remains of Mrs. Robert Stremler of Osborn, whose husband is in France, were buried in the cemetery at this place Monday morning.

D. E. Knisley and wife attended the funeral of their relative, Harry Hardcastle, Monday.

Grace Knisley resumed her place of business as bookkeeper at the Troy laundry in Dayton, Monday, after an illness of a week.

Mr. H. Klatt, wife of Jamestown, spent Sunday with her parents, Z. T. Hebble, and wife and attended the burial of their relative, Mrs. Klatt.

Rev. Chalmers G. Beaver and family of Dayton, were guests of her mother, Mrs. Ella Routzong and other relatives during the week.

New Shoe Ventilator.

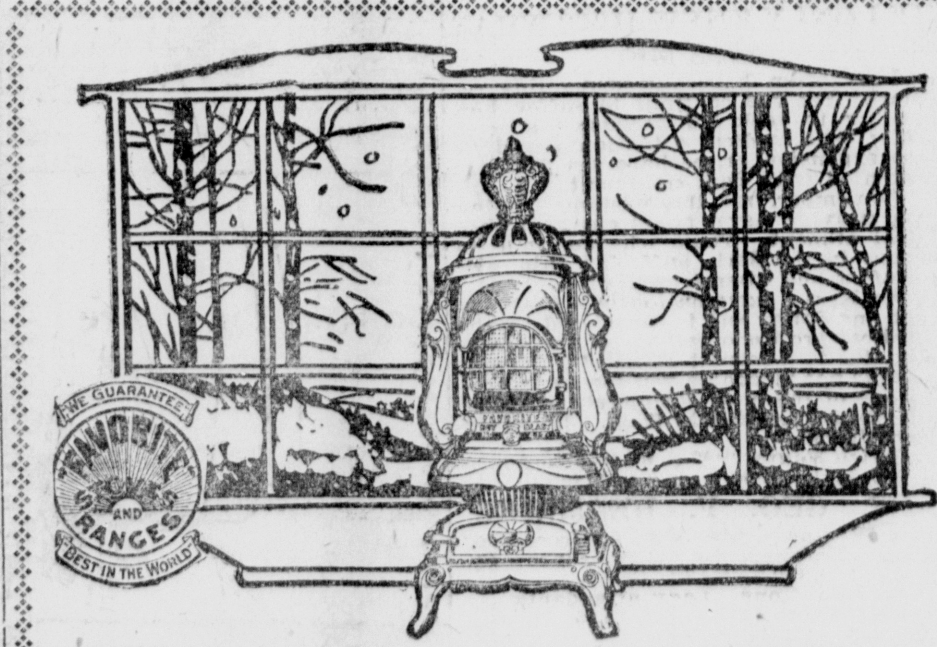

Working on the idea that lack of shoe ventilation is responsible for many foot troubles, a New Jersey man has devised a shoe ventilator. The device fits in a hole punched to accommodate it somewhat after the manner of a collar button. By simply turning the screw the flow of air into the shoe can be regulated or shut off as desired.

NERVOUS RUN-DOWN WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Creates Strength. Dated, Tenn.—"I live on a farm and keep house for six in my family. I got into a nervous run-down condition so it seemed as though I would die. A friend advised me to try Vinol. I have been greatly improved by its use and am better and stronger in every way."—Mrs. H. H. Goodwin.

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Goodwin's case is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weak run-down system and create strength.

P. S.—For pimples and blotches try Saxol Salve. Money back if it fails, adv.

Favorite Gas Heater

THE PERFECT FAVORITE GAS HEATER has the ability and power to heat several large rooms. The illustration gives you an idea of the beautiful appearance of these heaters.

DOES YOUR STOVE BURN THE SMOKE?

In order to burn smoke your stove must supply the fire with plenty of warm, fresh air; if it doesn't—the smoke is not burned and you are wasting money.

IN THE FAVORITE HOT BLAST, illustrated above, air is constantly sprayed over the top of the live fire. The air is drawn in through two openings just below the feed door and is circulated around the top of the fire box through a special cast section. At regular intervals there are openings which the air is actually sprayed on the top of the flames. This hot blast section has twice the capacity of that furnished in any other stove. As all parts of the fire are constantly supplied with fresh air, the gases which usually unite to form black smoke, are burned and produce great heat.

SEE THIS NEW FAVORITE before you buy a stove this fall. It is beautiful in design, is unusually durable, cuts down coal bills and does away with the black soot and smudge which ruins your furniture, wall paper and curtains. The price is low.

LIFTING OF BAN
COUNTERMANDED
BY DR. GRUBE

At the request of the City Commission, Dr. R. H. Grube, the city health officer, countermanded his order of yesterday permitting the churches and schools to open, and instituted in its place a ban that will keep the churches, schools and theaters closed and will also close all business houses, excepting eating houses, at not later than 7 o'clock every evening. On Saturdays poolrooms will be required to prohibit the use of billiard and pool tables after 12 o'clock noon and all chairs must be removed from the part of the room occupied by the cigar stores to guard against looting. Saloons and all business houses, including barber shops, groceries, but not restaurants and hotels, must close by 7 o'clock every evening including Saturday. The order also stops the serving of soda water, and no public meetings of any kind may be held. Acting under instruction of the city commission, Dr. Grube will also prohibit the holding of an advertised special sale at the Woolworth store and all other stores are instructed not to advertise special sales until the ban is lifted.

In view of the fact that two hundred children out of a total of 700 are ill with influenza at the O. S. and S. O. Home, it was deemed inadvisable to bring the children of Xenia together in school and thus subject them to the danger of contracting the disease. At present there are few cases among the children of Xenia and it is considered that this condition has been made possible by keeping the children apart.

Prof. D. H. Barnes, superintendent of schools, in Xenia township, also recalls his order opening the township schools next week. He states that the epidemic in the township is much more serious than he thought it was.

Beets Help Soil.

Beet crops have the effect of stimulating the soil. Observations made abroad show that after beets have been grown on the land there has been an increase in the yield of wheat of 5.59 bushels per acre; rye, 1.59; barley, 6.51, and oats, 5.77. Cattle have increased and the net income has been raised as high as 70 per cent.

A Mother's Happiness
Made Perfect

Of Utmost Importance That She Have Every Care.

The expectant mother's physical comfort should be our first thought, and all about her should see to it that her preparation for baby's coming be complete.

There is a most splendid remedy to prepare women for the greatest time in their lives, known as Mother's Friend. It is applied to the muscles of the abdomen, gently rubbed in, and at once penetrates to relieve strain on nerves, cords and ligaments. It makes the muscles so pliant that they expand easily when baby arrives; the hours at the time are fewer, and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally avoided.

Mother's Friend enables the mother to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided discomfort and suffering which more often than otherwise accompanies such an occasion when nature is unaided. Every nerve, muscle and tendon is thoroughly lubricated. Discomfort during the period is counteracted, and the skin, after the crisis, is left smooth and natural.

Write to the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. B, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the drug store today without fail.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man?—a well woman? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases, perhaps than yours, are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. 95 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment.

Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years experience.

Office Hours: 9-60 a. m. to 7-30 p. m.
Sundays: 9-60 a. m. to 11-30.

A War Time Measure

In order that we may make our regular service to our patrons more satisfactory under the abnormal conditions caused by the war, we have found it necessary to discontinue many of the practices which are not essential to our primary function of establishing connections promptly and accurately between subscribers' stations.

The two practices which have grown to the greatest proportions and have interfered most seriously with the handling of our regular service, are furnishing the time of day and awakening subscribers in the early morning.

The practice of asking the telephone operator for the time has so increased that our records show that one-eighth of all calls made by our subscribers are requests for the time of day, and the recording of requests to be called in the early morning and the completion of such calls have become serious burdens at hours when traffic is heavy and it is most difficult to procure employees to handle our service.

In view of the present conditions, the great shortage of labor, and the imperative necessity of conserving the time of our employees for essential service, the practice of furnishing the time and calling subscribers at specified hours will be discontinued from and after Sunday, October 27 and we request the cooperation of our subscribers in this effort to improve regular service.

Nature Always Supreme.

If he had slept more and regularly all his life, Napoleon would have been able to stay awake and attend to the battle of Waterloo, instead of falling asleep in spite of himself. Nature easily conquers all conquerors.

He's Usually Not Worth It.

The trouble with the man you have to know to flee is that usually he is so disagreeable that few people care to make a second attempt to know him. —Detroit Free Press.
